62%

of attendees have capitol projects they were sourcing technologies for INTERPHEX is a great venue to find both existing and emerging technology solutions for pharmaceutical manufacturing. As someone who is invested in emerging technologies, I appreciate this event, in particular, because it is perhaps the only meeting in the States that brings together the worldwide equipment vendors as well as other supporting technologies.

Dr. Hausner, Associate Director,
Rutgers University's Engineering Research
Center for Structured Organic Particulate Systems
(C-SOPS)

Our company has been a proud supporter of the INTERPHEX Show for decades. Each year, this event brings a highly-qualified audience to our booth to see our capsule-filling and packaging technologies in person. In 2016, we had one of our best shows ever, with key decision makers in the pharmaceutical industry lining up to see our innovative solutions.
